THRIFTIQUE - THE EXCITEMENT CONTINUES!

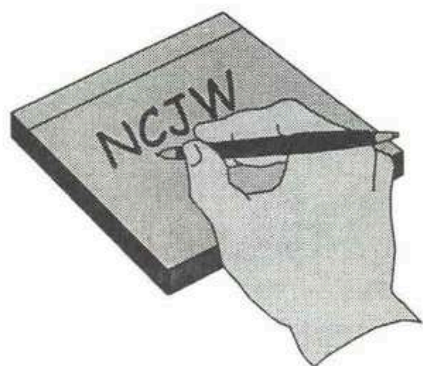

By Barbara Holzmark

Thriftique is getting exciting! Drop in at 83rd and Wornall Road (behind Torre's Pizza) - especially between 11 and 3 on any given day. We'd love to see you there!

Keep sending your wonderful donations and know that you are appreciated ten times over! We have new events and we hope you'll participate. Wednesday, April 5, is a party for members and their spouses/guests, chaired by NCJW's Carlyn Hoffman and Barbara Ostby from Symphony Women's Association. We'll have food and drink (cash bar), fun, plants and jewelry, and who knows what else! We will culminate on Sunday, April 9, with a "TGIO" party (Thank Goodness It's Over) at Dierdre and Ronnie Baker's home for all volunteers and spouses/guests. Dierdre is co-chair of Hospitality from NCJW and Darlene Cowherd is co-chair from SWA.

This is our first "Thriftique" fundraiser since October, 1997 and our first in coalition with SWA. We appreciate your donations and time. If you can't help out with clothes, bric-a-brac or your own time, financial contributions as underwriters are always accepted.

Co-President's Message

We hope you were fortunate enough to watch NBC Nightly News on February 8 to see Tom Brokaw's feature on NCJW's "Opening a New Window on Child Care."

Earlier that morning in the Mike Mansfield Room of the U.S. Capitol, NCJW launched the report on this hard-hitting, comprehensive look at the vital issue and continuing crisis of childcare.

In front of world wide press, NCJW National President, Jan Schneiderman, and National Vice President, Anne Oppenheimer, Chair of the Child Care Campaign Committee, spoke on NCJW's new report on the status of child care in the nation today.

Joining them to speak about the importance of this study were Senators Chris Dodd (CT) and Mary Landrieu (LA); Representatives Connie Morella (MD), Jan Schakowsky (IL) and Rosa DeLauro (CT); and representatives from Fannie Mae and the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Senator Chris Dodd said, "This report highlights the issue in clear and categorical language...If we knew of a disease that we could cure, but we sat on our hands and did nothing for 28 years, there would be outrage. And yet, sadly, that's what we as a nation have done when it comes to child care."

He was referring to the span of time that has occurred since NCJW's initial

Cathy Boyer-Shesol

landmark report "Windows on Day Care" published in 1972 which spoke about childcare as a critical issue for our nation. (Our Section was a major funder for the 1972 publication.)

The Greater Kansas City Section along with National and all other Sections take great pride in knowing that the vital issues related to child care is taking center stage! NCJW has begun to gather endorsements for a Statement of Principles on child care from 50 notable organizations to date including American Trial Lawyers Association, American Jewish Committee, Business and Professional Women USA, Child Care Action Campaign, Children's Defense Fund, National Education Association, National Organization for Women, Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the YWCA of USA.

Please call our office (913.648.0747) if you wish to see a copy of NCJW's "Opening A New Window On Childcare," and/or if you would like to become involved in working on this issue through our Section.

We hope you are searching your closets and other likely storage areas for items to donate to NCJW and SWA's Thriftique. Barbara Holzmark and her committee are working hard to make this a success!

Please plan to attend the May 10th Annual Spring Luncheon/Installation at Oakwood Country Club. Merna Siegler and her enthusiastic committee are planning an exciting program that promises to be memorable. We are delighted to include a celebration of Parties for the Blind's 65th and Hello Israel's 15th anniversaries.

Website Experts Needed

The Kansas City Section is looking for a volunteer to design a Section Website. If you, your daughter/son, have the expertise to design a website and would consider volunteering those talents to the Section, please call Linda Kelley at the NCJW Office, 913.648.0747. (Note: For students wanting community service hours, volunteering for NCJW in ANY capacity would assist you in reaching your goal.)

Current and Former Volunteers of Parties for the Blind and Hello Israel Wanted

Our Section is celebrating the exciting "anniversaries" of two community service projects: Parties for the Blind (65 years) and Hello Israel (15 years).

These two projects will be honored at the May 10th Spring Luncheon. We wish to send a special invitation to this event to all current and former volunteers of these two worthwhile projects.

To ensure that our list is complete, if you have been a volunteer with either of these projects (especially in the early years), please call Linda at the NCJW Office, 913.648.0747. Thank you.

Understanding Domestic Violence

By Susan Lebovitz

What are the warning signs of domestic violence? Unhealthy relationships can start with teenage dating, therefore, I will address "red flag relationships" as related to teenage dating, and also list warning signs in marital relationships.

Danger signals cover a wide area, and the abuser need not exhibit all the warning signs. If abuse occurs due to any of the methods listed below, then something has gone terribly wrong. Happening just once constitutes abuse; however, it can happen over a period of time. If total intimidation or isolation occurs, the victim becomes so dependent on the abuser that she really has no where to turn. Since domestic violence is extremely personal and embarrassing, the victim often decides not to share the initial stages of its occurrence, doesn't recognize it for what it is, or worse yet, denies its existence.

One additional "challenge" in the Jewish community remains the notion that "it doesn't happen here." Unfortunately, it does, and people who have studied this phenomena in Jewish communities feel strongly that the statistics parallel that of the gentile community.

In marital relationships, the behavior to watch for includes spouses who:

- ~ ignore what you say constantly,
- ~ ignore your personal space,
- ~ express anger or aggression for the opposite sex in general,
- ~ ignore needs of spouse,
- ~ attempt to make you feel guilty if you resist sexual advances,
- ~ act excessively jealous or possessive,
- ~ hold unrealistic ideas about the opposite sex,
- ~ drink or do drugs so that judgment is impaired,
- ~ see their actions as seductions, not rape,
- ~ resent the opposite sex if s/he is in a position of authority,
- ~ expect relationships to be on their terms.

When teens date, the signs for an unhealthy relationship may include several different characteristics. The abusive teen may demonstrate abnormal dependency, excessive jealousy or possessiveness, denial of personal space, frequent bouts of anger, and have a bad relationship with parents. Victims feel angry, resentful, guilty, depressed, relief when the other person is not around, fear in ending the relationship, and manipulated.

As a caring, concerned Jewish community, it is each person's responsibility to be aware that this can happen to people we know, and to reach out to support and help these victims. Domestic violence knows no boundaries.

If you would like more information, please call Susan Lebovitz, Jewish Community Domestic Violence Outreach Program Coordinator, 913.432.9300, ext. 24. The Jewish Outreach Program is supported by the Jewish Heritage Foundation.

Susan Lebovitz Named New Outreach Program Coordinator

Dear NCJW Members,

As of February 16th, I am the new SAFEHOME Jewish Community Outreach Program Coordinator for the project that is underwritten by the Jewish Heritage Foundation and NCJW. This includes the Silent Witness Program.

I am excited to serve in this capacity and believe there are endless opportunities for educating the Jewish Community about domestic violence and sexual abuse. For those of you who don't know me, I am a longtime Life Member of NCJW, and a former co-president. My volunteer involvement in NCJW began as a way to keep my management skills sharp when I resigned from Hallmark Cards, Inc. after giving birth to our first child, Sara, now 21! (We also have two sons, Aaron and Michael.)

NCJW provided a wonderful venue for me to meet Jewish women from the entire Jewish community, and I strongly believed in the priorities. In addition, NCJW sponsored regional and national training workshops that gave me the background required to enter the professional volunteer management world. So in a sense, I've come full circle!

Please feel free to contact me if you have questions, concerns, or would like to volunteer for some aspect of this program. You can reach me at 913.432.9300, ext. 24.

Sincerely, Susan Lebovitz

NCJW News and Notes ~

Personal Giving Promoted

Rather than our plea for Annual Giving, we are asking you to respond to "National's" request for Personal Giving contributions.

Enclose a note stating which initiative you want your dollars to go for, ie.... "Promote the Vote," "Windows on Child Care," or any other of your pet projects. Please let them know that you want your contributions credited to Greater Kansas City Section's program support. NCJW has received much media attention with the update of "Windows on Day Care" (opening a new "Windows on Child Care"). Promote the Vote is a timely initiative that will be nationally observed and one all of us need to support.

Recipe Contest Considered

Pass the flour...just a little more vanilla...here's the diced apple.

It's time for Kansas City to show off our culinary talent! NCJW is considering sponsoring a recipe contest that would culminate in a new cookbook. We are currently looking for members to join a committee to help plan this event. We could use your help!

If you are interested in participating, please contact Barbara Warady at 913.383.2919.

NCJW Endorses Million Mom March

National President Jan Schneiderman said NCJW endorses the Million Mom March on May 14, 2000. "We are thrilled to be a part of this march on Washington and encourage all NCJW members to be involved in this important endeavor. It is our fervent hope that this Mother's Day march will serve as a wake-up call to legislators around the country that a majority of Americans insist on action to control guns."
