Join us June 12 for installation

2022 Back to School Store

Although we have come a long way in managing the COVID-19 pandemic, we are still concerned about holding the Back to School Store in person for the safety of our volunteers and the children. We know the need is still great and have again decided to hold a modified 2022 Back to School Store.

Even though we won't be setting up and staffing the store, we still need volunteers to transport, unpack, and organize items from storage and fulfill orders that we receive from 12 agencies.

We appreciate your continued commitment to supporting families in need and hope to be back to in person shopping next year. A volunteer sign up will be sent in the next few weeks, and we encourage you to check your calendar and be prepared to claim your volunteer spot.

A successful Mother's Day jewelry 'store'

On Friday, May 6, NCJW volunteers visited Operation Breakthrough to set up the Mother's Day store. We assisted about 130 children in picking out a special piece of jewelry for Mother's Day. The children were so excited to give their special someone a gift. More than a few ran right up to them and gave them the gift right on the spot!

Jennifer Heinemann of Operation Breakthrough said, "you made the children feel so important, so grown up, to have a valuable gift for the most precious person in their lives." It was a wonderful day for both the children and the NCJW volunteers.
